The Kissed that Missed!

Well done Year 1 for an AMAZING production of the Kiss that Missed—you really showed what a great Theatre Company you are and that Fairy tale characters are still very much loved by children!

Great news on the 7th December we welcomed baby Magowan into the Oakwood Family! Jonah Magowan arrived right on time and is a very handsome and lovely little boy. All our love and best wishes to Fiona and James as they start their family life together.

The end is in sight!

I am sure that we are all now counting down to the end of the term.... It is now nearing 8 weeks since half term and it is probably safe to say that most children [and the rest of us] are hanging on by the skin of their teeth [and some have very few teeth ...]. Don't be surprise if your child is excessively tired, emotional, unpredictable or generally off the rails at this time of year – try to keep routines in place and make sure they are having enough sleep. As for you try to keep things in perspective, laugh instead of cry and remember it is Christmas—which is supposed to be a time of peace, love and understanding. And if all else fails there are a lot of deals on Prosecco and mince pies at the moment [take your pick!]

A HUGE thank you to everyone who managed to dig deep and add to our 'tinsel-y' buckets after all of our Christmas performances. Your generosity has raised £426 for Guide Dogs for the Blind and I know that Elliott would have been extremely happy by your kindness and support.

Getting ready for the Oakwood Christmas!

GREAT news it is nearly time for our day of Christmas celebrations and I for one have that favourite Christmas jumper ready and waiting... So just what do you need to know and remember next week?

NO bags or PE kit needed NEXT week at all!! Just turn up on Monday with your child and a water bottle—let's keep things simple!

NO UNIFORM from Wednesday! Hooray!!! you can shove everything grey and red in the washing machine on Tuesday and not get it out again until January! All children can come into school on Wednesday AND Thursday in non-uniform. Christmas jumpers and reindeer ears are welcome, just make sure everything is practical for getting a bit messy and Christmassy in and running around at playtime.

Christmas lunch on Wednesday—anyone who has ordered a Christmas lunch will be getting down with the turkey [or veggie alternative]. If you haven't ordered make sure your child has their festive packed lunch ready.

Christmas Fun Day—it's an all day Christmas Fun Day on Wednesday with the children taking part in Christmas activities, meeting Father Christmas and even taking part in the children's Christmas Tombola!

My child is unwell - should they go to school today?

To help you decide if and when your child should remain off school, a simple guide has been produced for a number of the most common illnesses and this guide has been attached for you as a flyer— a hard copy will also be sent home for you as part of the school attendance pack next week.

And Finally ... a very merry Christmas and a peaceful new year

I would like to take this opportunity to wish all of our Oakwood families and friends a very happy Christmas. As always it has been a pleasure to work with you this term; to give our very best and to make sure that all of our children are happy, safe and getting the best possible start in life that we can give them.

My thanks and admiration to the amazing people who make Oakwood what it is—I know how every member of staff always give their best and never stop thinking about how to make things even better; enjoy a well earned rest!

I truly hope that you all have the Christmas that you hope for—stay safe and we all look forward to welcoming you back in 2018.

Best wishes

Sue and the Oakwood Team
